

Catalano—Tomé.

A number of ladies and gentlemen attended at All Saints' (R.C.) Church, Liverpool, last Wednesday, to witness the marriage of Mr. Nicholas Catalano, of Leichhardt, to Miss E. Tomé, eldest daughter of Mr. G. Tomé, of Holdsworthy. The bride was given away by her eldest brother, Mr. M. Tomé, and Mr. A. Tomé acted as best man. Father Walsh performed the ceremony. The bridesmaids were Miss A. Tomé (sister of the bride) and Miss K. Catalano. The bride wore a very handsome white silk costume, trimmed with orange blossom and chiffon, and wore also the customary wreath and veil. The chief bridesmaid's (Miss Tomé's) dress was of buttercup lustre, trimmed with pink silk, and hat to match. Miss Catalano was attired in white silk, relieved with green velvet. The bridegroom's gifts to the bride were an opal ring and a gold watch and chain, and to the bridesmaids a watch and lucky bell, respectively. The wedding breakfast was partaken of at the bride's parents' residence, Holdsworthy, where a very large party of friends assembled, a pavilion having been erected for the occasion, beautifully decorated with flowers, ferns, and Chinese lanterns, etc.
